OVERVIEW

Andreas Müller is an associate at K&L Gates. He is a member of the Technology Transactions and Sourcing and the Data Protection, Privacy, and Security practice groups. He advises national and international clients on IP/IT law, in particular on e-commerce, copyright, trademark, competition, and data protection law.

In these areas, he represents clients in complex litigation before national courts and public authorities and advises and assists clients in contract negotiations, technology-related transactions, drafts of IT and software contracts, and enforcement of their related rights.

PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND

Andreas joined the firm in March 2022. He studied at the Philipps-University of Marburg and the Christian-Albrechts-University of Kiel, specializing in antitrust and copyright law. During his clerkship, he worked, among others, at a medium-sized law firm in Kiel and at one of the world's largest online marketplaces.

After completing his 2nd state exam in March 2020, Andreas worked as a project staff in an antitrust case at a major international law firm. He then took up a role as legal counsel in the legal department of one of the world's largest online marketplaces in the European Litigation Team.
